

2007 Instructor of the Year

HM1 Pritchett was selected as the 2007 Field Medical Training Battalion East, Instructor of the Year. During this period, HM1 Pritchett demonstrated continued instructional excellence and exceptional skill at implementing instruction using the Systems Approach to Training. He demonstrated extraordinary ability to actively engage his students and enhance their motivation to learn through masterful use of experiential methods of instruction, facilitation techniques and communication skills.

His enthusiasm was matched only by his energy and obvious passion for teaching. His unequivocal devotion to provide his students meaningful learning experiences was the hallmark of his success and served as testament to his outstanding professionalism. For his selection as the Instructor of the Year, HM1 Pritchett was awarded The Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal (Silver Star in lieu of